ROUTINE PROCEEDINGS IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

Report of the Inter-State Commerce Commission—Gen. Clarkson to Resign—Important Customs Decision.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Senate re-assembled Monday noon, after the holiday recess, with the vice-President in the Chair, and with less than a quorum in the chamber.

Among the numerous petitions presented and referred were two from Kansas and Texas, the former urging the selection of Chicago and the latter St. Louis as the place for the International Exposition of 1892.

The President sent to the Senate the following nominations:

Interior Department—Claborn J. Walton, to be pension agent at Louisville, Ky.; J. Lee Knight, to be receiver of public moneys at Topeka, Kan. To be registers of land offices: George F. Blanchard at Sidney, Neb.; W. H. Seaman at Los Angeles, Cal., and James C. Noel at Ironwood, Mo.

Department of Justice—Hiram Knowles, to be United States district judge for the district of Montana; Robert H. Paul, to be United States Marshal for the Territory of Arizona; to be United States Attorney: Isaac N. Alexander, for the northern district of Ohio; Theodore F. Shepard, for the eastern district of Michigan; Maurice J. O'Connell, for the northern district of Iowa; Franklin P. Mays, for the district of Oregon, and Albert D. Weed, for the district of Montana.

Senator Plumb offered a resolution, which was laid on the table for further action, reciting the reported oppression of natives by the Alaska Commercial company, and requesting the Secretary of the Treasury not to make a new lease of the seal islands until further action by Congress.

Senator Call offered a long preamble and resolution setting forth that the German government is interested in assisting Spain to perpetrate her sovereignty in Cuba; protesting against any such combination, and requesting the President to furnish the Senate such information as may be in possession of the State Department in regard to the matter. Referred.

Senator Dawes offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the postmaster-general for information as to the proposed connection of the postoffice department with the telegraph companies, and as to the probable cost of the erection of a government independent line between the cities of St. Louis, Chicago, Philadelphia and New York.

Senator Plumb offered a resolution, which was agreed to, directing the National soldiers' homes to consider and report upon the advisability of establishing a hospital at Hot Springs, Ark., for ex-soldiers.

The following bills were also introduced and referred:

By Senator Cullum (by request)—Authorizing the secretary of the treasury to loan money to farmers at 2 per cent.

By Senator Chandler—Proposing an amendment to the Constitution so that, if any State shall fail to enact or effectually enforce laws against murder and other felonies, Congress may provide for punishing those crimes within such State.

The House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—In the House Mr. Bynum (Ind.) offered a resolution, which was referred to the committee on rules, for the appointment of a special committee of five members to investigate certain charges made against the United States District Attorney for Indiana, Smiley N. Chambers and his predecessors. The charges consist in the alleged suppression of testimony presented for the procurement of an indictment against W. W. Dudley in connection with the "blocks-of-five" letter.

The charges are incorporated in a long affidavit signed by John A. Long of Indiana, who says that Col. Dudley conspired with William H. Murray and Charles H. Schroeder for the corruption of voters at the polls and to improperly influence persons in the exercise of the franchise.

Among the bills introduced were the following:

By Mr. Lane (Ill.)—To prevent the contraction of the currency; also for a graduated income tax; also for tax trusts; also to ascertain the amount of the mortgage indebtedness of the farmers of the United States.

By Mr. Springer (Ill.)—For the admission of Arizona, Idaho, New Mexico, and Wyoming into the Union.

By Mr. Perkins (Kas.)—For the free coinage of gold and silver; also for the creation of an office of congressional correspondence and department business. This provides for an office, in connection with the House, with clerks whose duty it shall be to attend to the department business of members.

By Mr. Chipman (Mich.)—To increase the pay of letter-carriers.

By Mr. Cutcherson (Mich.)—To encourage re-enlistment in the army and to prevent desertions; also for the reorganization of the artillery force; also to increase the efficiency of the signal corps; also to extend the general land laws over the Territory of Alaska.

By Mr. Blind (Mo.)—Looking to the imposition of an income tax for the payment of pensions; also for the free coinage of silver.

By Mr. Smith (Arizona)—For the admission of Arizona.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE.

Annual Report of the Commission Submitted to Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The report of the Inter-State Commerce commission has been transmitted to Congress. It is lengthy and is devoted principally to the review of the acts of the commission. In reference to the operation of the law the report says: "Enough appears by the official returns and from unofficial sources to warrant a positive statement that as a whole there has been a considerable increase in railroad earnings and that during the year since the last report of the commission every month has shown a marked, though not the same, increase over the corresponding month in the previous year. The lowest rate of increase upon the given number of roads in any month was nearly 4½ per cent and the highest was over 12 per cent, being the largest since the extraordinary rate of earnings in the year 1889.

"It is to be noted that, with the exception perhaps of some coal roads, the increased earnings have been shared by the various groups or classes of roads in the different portions of the country, and especially in the following order:

"Pacific slope roads, trunk lines, roads south of the Ohio and Potomac rivers, Southwestern roads, and in less degree those elsewhere.

"There seems no reason to believe, therefore, that the effect of the law has been injurious to railroad earnings. A number of amendments to the law of minor importance are recommended, also for further legislation, as follows:

"1. Prohibition of payment of commissions by one railroad company to ticket agents; by another railroad company for passenger transportation, and the prohibition of commissions for soliciting or procuring traffic to outside organizations or persons.

"2. The abolition of ticket brokerage by requiring that every person who sells tickets shall be duly authorized by the company for which he sells.

"3. The regulation of payment of car mileage for the use of cars of private companies or individuals.

"4. The extension of the law to apply to common carriers by water.

"Much space is devoted to the competition of Canadian roads, but no recommendations are made.

CLARKSON WILL RESIGN.

Postmaster-General Clarkson's First Assistant to Step Out.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The statement made several weeks ago that First Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson contemplated resigning has been verified. Mr. Clarkson, in conversation with a correspondent, said that he had originally taken the office only under the strongest importunities, and that he had accepted it then under the condition that he would not be asked to hold it more than a year. When he accepted the office he did so only for the purpose of ridding the party of Democratic postmasters so far as it lay in his power. He hopes to be through with this before very long, and then he will return to the more congenial field of journalism.

He regards the time that he has spent in the office as the most instructive year of his life. He says he has learned a great deal of the politics of every county and State in the Union in the ten months that he has been in office. There is not a county in the States but he has learned something of its politics, and he knows now the exact standing and exact worth of every Republican politician in the country.

IMPORTANT CUSTOMS DECISION.

The Government Compelled to Refund $5,000,000 to Importers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—In an opinion rendered in the well-known Edolhoff customs case the Supreme court holds that silk and cotton ribbons used exclusively as hat trimmings are dutiable at 20 per cent. under the provision in the tariff act of 1883 for "trimmings for hats, bonnets, and not at 50 per cent under the provision for materials for hats."

The government will by this decision be compelled to refund about $5,000,000 to importers in Philadelphia, New York, Boston and other places.

Reed Proposes to Rule the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Speaker Reed has prepared the outlines of the new rules for the government of the House, which he presented to the committee on rules Monday. They make 100 members a quorum of the committee of the whole and make no mention as to the rights of members relative to making dilatory motions, thus leaving that question open for the Speaker to decide when occasion arises.

Justice Brewer Sworn In.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Judge David J. Brewer was sworn in at noon Monday as an Associate Justice of the United States Supreme court, and immediately took his seat upon the bench. The ceremony was performed in the court room, in the presence of a large audience.

IT PUZZLES THE DOCTORS.

A Disease Resembling Leprosy Threatening a New Jersey Town.

ARLINGTON, N. J., Jan. 7.—Physicians of this town are greatly puzzled over a new disease which has just appeared here, and the citizens are as greatly alarmed, owing to the fact that the symptoms of the disease are not unlike those of leprosy. The only victim of the disease so far as known is a man named Borst, who was employed in the cellulose works.

About a week ago Borst was stricken down with pain in the head. A few days later his skin began to change color and large scales gathered on its surface. Finally the skin began to peel off in large patches, the victim was seized with gastritis, became extremely nervous, and all agreed that the disease was new to them. Saturday it was decided to remove Borst to a medical institution at Plainfield, where he will receive the expert care of a number of experts in skin diseases.

A Chicago Failure.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Judge Collins has appointed Frank A. Holmer receiver for the furniture manufacturing company of R. Deibel & Co., whose salesrooms are at 381 Wabash avenue. The firm is one of the largest engaged in the manufacture of parlor furniture in the West. It is composed of three brothers, Simon, Joseph, and Rudolph Deibel, and has been doing an enormous business, but at a loss, owing to heavy expenses. It was agreed by a court that the business must be wound up, but the three brothers had different ideas of the best way to accomplish this end. Efforts to bring about an agreement were fruitless, and so the bill for a receiver was filed. The total liabilities probably exceed $200,000, while the assets at the most liberal estimate, it is said, can not exceed $250,000.

Dr. Kniffen Attempts Suicide.

TRINITY, N. J., Jan. 7.—Dr. Kniffen, the husband of the woman who was found smothered to death in bed last Friday morning, took an ounce of aconite and gagged his wrist and throat with a razor between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning.

Physicians were summoned and had no trouble in stanching the flow of blood, as the jugular vein had not been touched. The doctor in the end was four hours long, but the worst wound was slight. Owing to the size of the dose of aconite, the poison acted as an emetic and was all thrown off. The doctor is now out of danger. He says he attempted his life because he was discouraged at the strong tide of public feeling against him.

HIS PLUCK WON.

A Story for Small Boys.

The boy marched straight up to the counter.

"Well, my little man," said the merchant complacently, he had just risen from such a glorious good dinner, "What will you have to-day?"

"Oh, please sir, mayn't I do some work for you?"

It might have been the pleasant blue eyes that did it, for the man was not accustomed to parley with such small gentlemen, and Tommy wasn't seven yet, and small of his age at that.

There were a few wisps of hair along the edges of the merchant's temples, and looking down at the appealing face, the man pulled at them. When he had done tweaking them he gave the ends of his cravat a brush, and then his hands traveled down to his vest pocket.

"Do some work for me, eh? Well, now, about what sort of work might your small manhood calculate to be able to perform? Why, you can't look over the counter?"

"Oh, yes I can, and I'm growing, please, growing fast; there, see if I can't look over the counter."

"Yes, by standing on your toes; are they cooped?"

"What, sir?"

"Why, your toes. Your mother could not keep you in shoes if they were not."

"She can't keep me in shoes any how, sir," and the voice hesitated.

The man took pains to look over the counter. It was too much for him, he couldn't see the little toes. Then he went all the way around.

"I thought I should need a microscope, he said, very gravely, "but I reckon if I get close enough I can see what you look like."

"I'm older than I'm big, sir," was the neat rejoinder. "Folks say I am very small for my age."

"What might your age be, sir?" responded the man, with emphasis.

"I am almost seven," said Tommy, with a look calculated to impress even six feet high. "You see, my mother hasn't any body but me, and this morning I saw her crying, because she could not find five cents in her pocket-book, and she thinks the boy who took the ashes stole it—and I have—not—had—any—any breakfast, sir." The voice again hesitated, and tears came to the blue eyes.

OTTO GAS ENGINE

An Automatic Savings Bank.

The latest and perhaps the most ingenious application of the automatic principle is to be found in a machine for banking purposes invented and patented by Mr. John Hope, mechanical engineer, Liverpool. When a penny or 2 half pennies are pressed into Mr. Hope's automatic bank the depositor pulls out a drawer and finds printed ticket bearing a number in duplicate. He writes his name and address on the ticket, which he then presses into a cavity in the machine made to receive it, keeping the other half with the corresponding number. Thus, when those in charge of the automatic bank clear it of the tickets in order to enter them in the proper form in their books, each depositor has the duplicate of the tickets bearing his name and address. In this way absolute accuracy is obtained and depositors are credited with the exact amount they have put into the machine. Each machine is capable of holding 45 in pennies or half pennies, the coins being received in tubes, which are so arranged that any attempt to pass base coins would be very easily detected. No second penny can be received by the machine until the receipt for the first one has been duly removed by the depositor. Mr. Hope claims for his invention that it is well suited not only as a feeder to the Postoffice savings bank, but also for penny-bank associations, bands of hope, and other agencies for the encouragement of thrift among old and young.

Pillows Made of Paper.

During the Franco-German war the ladies in England were busy making paper cushions which they sent to France to be used for the wounded in the hospitals. Hundreds of thousands of these cushions were sent and were of great service. Now all England is crazy on the subject of paper pillows again. They tear the paper into small pieces, not bigger than one's finger nail, and then put them into a pillow sack of drilling or light ticking. They are cool for hot climates and much superior to feather pillows. The newspapers are printing appeals for them in hospitals. Newspaper is not nice for them to use, as there is a disagreeable odor from printers' ink; but brown or white paper and old letters and envelopes are the best. As they are torn stuff into an old pillowcase, and you can see when you have enough. The easiest way is to tear or cut the paper in strips about half an inch wide, and then tear or cut it across. The finer it is the lighter it makes the pillows.

The Ex-Queen of Spain.

Several weeks ago we had the pleasure of seeing ex-Queen Isabella of Spain in one of the shops here, says a Munich letter. She was accompanied by her daughter, who married one of the sons of the prince regent. No one was allowed in the same aisle with them, but we happened to be standing in the next aisle and had a very good opportunity of seeing her. She is a fat old lady, rather short, and not at all queenly in manner or appearance. She was dressed very dowdily and wore a false "wave." They say she is very poor and has sold all her jewels. She stopped only a short time in Munich, visiting her daughter, and from here went on to Paris. The daughter and family live at Nymphenburg (so called from the many marble nymphs placed about the private garden), a castle delightfully situated in a natural park, through which a stream of water flows.

FUEL.

CHAPTER I.

Such sensational literature as that, which has recently been published, giving prices of fuel, may lead thinking people to pursue some such train of reflection as the following:

Is it not well known that the prices made would result in serious loss on legitimate business?

How is this loss to be made up?

Careful business men are very slow to offer something for nothing, and the wise and prudent consumer who recalls the unprofitable experience of the past, is not likely to accept such a proposition rashly.

Speak, O lovely Ann Eliza, with a terrible cough. And a wheezing respiration full of sighs and heave moans.

With a constant lachrymation, and a nasal intonation, From catarrhal inflammation o'er the turbaned bones!

Why, thou young and happy maiden, is thy conversation laden With a copious addition of abortive b's and d's?

And from whence did you derive a red and swollen conjunctiva, And a frequent inclination to incontinently sneeze?

Is this malady outrageous which you suffer with contumacious, Epidemic or endemic? Tell from whence the thing arose, Where its place of incubation, what its future destination? Speak the lovely Ann Eliza, smiling sweetly, "No one nome."

THE PEOPLE'S SYNDICATE.

Taking Shape and Promising to Become a Success.

A POPULAR POOL TO WIN.

All Work Together, and the Syndicate Will Prove a Blessing to All.

At the close of the Business Men's meeting last night the question of perfecting some sort of an organization to encourage, manufacturing industries came up for discussion, and a lively interest was manifested. H. F. Bliss, of the Gazette, was called to the chair, and stated briefly his views concerning the People's Syndicate, which has been discussed to some extent in these columns during the past week. A unanimous sentiment seemed to prevail that some such scheme was practical, and should be thoroughly tested. A committee, consisting of O. F. Nowlan, V. P. Richardson, and F. M. Marzoff was appointed to perfect a plan of operation and present it to the meeting next Monday evening. The names of O. S. Jackson and H. F. Bliss were added to the committee by motion.

The ninth annual convention of the officers of the Wisconsin National guard will be held at the Light House Square, Milwaukee, Thursday, January 24th, under the auspices of the National Guard association. This is the first time the convention has been held in Milwaukee, Madison having always been the meeting place. It is quite probable that it will convene alternately in Milwaukee and Madison hereafter, for the reason that the capital is a desirable place on legislative years.

—Officer McGinley walked into the municipal court this afternoon with three felon looking tramps who he took in out of the cold last night. The accommodations at the county hotel were not in keeping with their taste, and when Judge Patterson intimated that he would give them ninety days of the same kind of treatment, they begged to be excused, stating that they would avail themselves of the first opportunity to leave the county. They were given the opportunity, and they started in the direction of the state line.

—A couple of ducky representatives of the Winnebago tribe of Indians were wandering around the residence portion of the city on the east side of the river this morning. One lady had occasion to step into the hall, and discovered to her surprise, one of the red men, who had called unannounced. He presented his card, which stated that he was too old to hunt, but still able to beg. He was invited to occupy the yard, and proceeded to do so when the family dog came to the rescue. Keep your front doors locked until the Winnebago brethren go north.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Woodruff gave a pleasant little party last evening to the members of Trinity church and a few invited friends, all the guests being conveyed to Buckleton Farm, the handsome rural home of the host and hostess, by carriages. A stage had been prepared in the form of the parlors and several very beautiful tableaux were produced, together with several interesting recitations, all appropriate to the Christmas season. Refreshments were served, and the party was one of real enjoyment to all who were fortunate enough to be present. The entertainment, novel in its arrangements, was one of much interest, and will be remembered with pleasure by Trinity choir. At a late hour carriages conveyed the guests to their respective homes.

—The People's Syndicate is designed to come within the reach of every man. It is not expected that the small amount invested will draw interest, or that the principle will ever be returned. The money will be put into a general fund, for the one purpose of building up manufacturing industries. It will be a people's enterprise, and will interest capitalists as well as those in more moderate circumstances. A man who is able to give from five to ten dollars a month, will have an opportunity to do so when the family dog came to the rescue. Keep your front doors locked until the Winnebago brethren go north.

—The Business Men's Association arranged for the entertainment of Wisconsin editors.

The Business Men's Association convened in regular monthly session last evening, a goodly number being present. President Hudson occupied the chair.

After the transaction of routine business the question of the winter meeting of the Wisconsin Press Association was discussed. Mr. Cyrus Miner was added to the committee of arrangements, and expression was unanimous in favor of doing the handsome thing by the newspaper men.

Mr. O. F. Nowlan suggested that money be the first thing needed and on his motion a subscription paper was circulated by Mr. Miner and $80 subscribed in a very few moments.

The committee can use to good advantage, from three to five hundred dollars, and there should be no trouble in raising the necessary fund.

It should be generally understood, that the Wisconsin Press Association meet in Janesville by invitation. They do not ask anything in the way of entertainment, except the use of a hall. The business of the association will be transacted at the morning and afternoon sessions, which will be open to the public. The evening meetings will be very entertaining, as a number of prominent speakers from abroad will be present.

The question of what shall be done in the way of entertaining the association is simply a question of what Janesville people would like to do. It is a first class opportunity to show a little hospitality to a class of men who are in position to return the compliment, four fold.

Give the committee a cordial reception when they call, and let us do the handsome thing by the Wisconsin editors when they come to our city in February.

THE REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of education was held last evening in the common council chamber. All the commissioners being present except Commissioners McElroy and Metcalf.

President McLean was excused, whereupon Com. Keefe was elected president pro tem.

The journal of the previous meetings was read and approved.

Several bills were presented and allowed.

On motion of Com. Smith, the superintendent was instructed to fill such vacancies in the forces of teachers as might occur.

On motion of Com. Smith, Commissioners Fethers and Wilson were appointed to examine and report upon proper fire escapes for the several school buildings.

On motion of Com. Fethers, Superintendent Stewart was authorized to purchase a classical dictionary for the high school and $5 for German text books.

On motion of Com. Wilson, the superintendent was authorized to assign the work classes and teachers, for all the schools of the city according to his discretion, and to report the same to the board of education.

There being no further business the board adjourned.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Gen. Butler is talked of as a candidate for the office of mayor of the City of St. Paul, Minnesota, for 1890.

Mr. Victoriano Sardou, the famous French dramatic author, has left Paris to pass the winter at his villa near Nice.

Franklin R. Gowen had a marvelous feat of memory, as he was able to repeat through twice, for word.

Maj. Powell of the geological survey earnestly opposed the proposed introduction of the Potomac water into the city. He considers Potomac water far purer and better for drinking.

Mrs. Fickler, wife of the South Carolina representative in Congress, is said to be an expert in the art of temperance and woman suffrage conventions.

A friend and admirer once said to Robert Johnson: "I have studied long upon this thing of yours and am sure you will be able to comprehend it. Pray tell me what the idea embodied in it?" Mr. Johnson replied: "The passage over and under the water."

Dr. James McCosh has severed entirely his connection with Princeton college, of which he was the head for twenty years, and has retired to his home in Princeton, N. J.

The Princess of Wales is reported to have been very much astonished at seeing a man in a white coat, who was in the habit of wearing it, in the midst of the crowd.

Mr. Ward, who was with Stanley at the outset of his expedition, has many interesting stories to tell about that remarkable old gentleman, Tipoo Tibb. His real name is Hamid Khan. Mr. Ward has now a phonetic effort on the part of the natives. Tipoo has a pleasing way of going round in the early morning, surprising peaceful villages, and then returning to be stored and perched away with his rifle. The natives take the sound of his gun as like a signal of war, and hence they called him "Tipoo Tibb." Mr. Ward has a photograph, which he took of the old man, and it is a very fine one. He is a brave, who stand guard over thirty tons of ivory, worth at least $400,000. Tipoo, in presence of his treasures, wears an amiable, almost angelic expression.

NOVELTIES IN JEWELRY.

The shell of a clam reproduced in silver makes a pretty bristly dish.

Pansies, roses, and ferns worked in repoussé on the back of a silver hand mirror have a pretty effect.

A gold locomotive headlight, with a diamond set in place of a glass, makes an appropriate scarf pin for a railroad man.

A silver gilt hand mirror of recent importation has an Italian mountain scene on the glass, through a thick beveled glass on the back.

A squirrel of gold perched on a branch of the same material, with a thistle of diamonds and rubies in its paws, is a dainty ornament for a lady's dress.

World's Fair enthusiasts are now wearing gold cuff buttons bearing the name of their favorite city, with the words, "Exposition, 1892."

Two small pearls of moss agate, almost hidden in a silver setting of gold leaves, is a lace pin that will shortly be placed on the market.

Two squirrels, each engaged in gnawing at a nut, with a plain bar resting on their backs, make a silver brooch that possesses many attractions.

The chrysanthemum is being reproduced in almost every article of jewelry. Lace and scarf pins, however, appear to be the favorite articles for showing it.

A silver napkin ring that is attracting much attention from those artistically inclined represents a broken kettledrum resting on a wrecked gun carriage wheel.

Quite elegant and handsome is a silver shoe button with a plain bright band encircling the top, and with the bottom chased to represent a wicker basket.

A unique and effective silver pen dish resembling that of an ostrich, and which is in place of the old-fashioned one, is a novel article for the study.

At one corner of the receptacle an old appearing owl with averted head is perched.
